Gangnam Style Song Lyrics The lyrics describe a carefree, confident woman who knows how to have fun and enjoys her freedom. She's a girl who gets hotter when night falls and has a unique twist. The song's male perspective is also introduced, where he boasts about being as warm and loving as the woman during the day, and even more so at night. He's a guy who can party hard and play with passion, but remains classy and stylish. The chorus repeats the phrase "Oppa is Gangnam Style" several times, with added phrases like "Sexy Lady" to emphasize the song's catchy and upbeat tone. Some other lyrics that stand out include: * The contrast between a girl who looks quiet but loves to party, versus a guy who seems calm but goes wild when he plays * The comparison of running man and flying man, showcasing confidence and bravado, * The repetition of "Beautiful, loveable" throughout the song, highlighting the affectionate nature of the lyrics. Overall, the song's lyrics celebrate individuality, freedom, and self-expression, with a focus on the unique qualities of both men and women. The lyrics describe an "Oppa" (a term used to refer to a romantic interest) who is Gangnam style, which means he's got a unique and quirky personality. The song describes him as a guy who's warm during the day but gets hotter at night, just like a cup of coffee that's been left out too long. He's also described as being playful and fun-loving, always ready to have a good time. The lyrics also describe an "Eh- Sexy Lady" (a term used to refer to a woman who embodies the Gangnam style), who is quiet but party-hard when she lets her hair down. The song suggests that this lady is confident in her own skin and doesn't need to show off to be sexy. Throughout the song, PSY repeats the phrase "Oppa is Gangnam style" and "Eh- Sexy Lady", emphasizing the unique qualities of these individuals. He also references the concept of a "flying man" who can soar to new heights, suggesting that Oppas are capable of achieving great things. Overall, the lyrics celebrate the quirks and charms of those who embody the Gangnam style, which is all about being confident, playful, and having fun. K-pop sensation PSY pays tribute to women in his signature song "Gangnam Style." The lyrics describe two contrasting personas - a woman who is elegant and refined during the day, but becomes bold and seductive at night. In contrast, the male protagonist is warm and playful by day, but transforms into a passionate and intense individual as night falls. Both characters are portrayed as confident and sexy, with the song's catchy hook ("Oppa Gangnam Style") becoming an anthem for women who embody these qualities.
